Trattoria by Cinque

Fun, casual Italian restaurant with potential to become a Jumeirah Village Circle stalwart

Time Out says Details

In many cities around the world, whole communities have been built on the cooking of a good neighbourhood Italian – and in Trattoria by Cinque, Jumeirah Village Circle could have itself just that.

Though residents may find themselves jostling with the sizeable holidaymaking crowd generally occupying a hefty portion of the rooms in the hotel, for a midweek meal out, it's worth elbowing your way in.

With its bistro-style interiors, Trattoria is the more casual, family-focused sister of fine dining Italian eatery Cinque, found at Dubai's famed FIVE Palm Jumeirah Dubai.

While at first glance the menus might seem fairly similar – the former's more accessible approach is perhaps most evident in a list of crowd-pleasing pizzas, all priced well under Dhs100.

But just because the kids are welcome doesn't mean it's just for a family Friday lunch. Trattoria's appeal is elastic.

Monday ladies' nights see this place swinging, with a live band helping deliver a loud and lively evening out.

Otherwise, the place is pretty well suited to everything from a post-work bite to a low-key date night.

Dial dinner up with dishes including roasted octopus and lobster linguine, or keep it casual with meatballs in Neapolitan-style ragu and pepperoni pizza.

While grape beverages are fairly reasonably priced, hops not so much – bottles start from Dhs50, and pints from Dhs56. A daily happy hour from 4pm to 7pm, offering 50 percent off, sees the early bird catch the most affordable meal out.

If Trattoria wants to be a real cornerstone of the JVC community, those drinks prices might need a rethink. For food, service and setting, it's already most of the way there.

Open daily 6.30am to midnight. Licensed. FIVE Jumeirah Village, JVC, jumeirahvillage.fivehotelsandresorts.com (058 100 9749).
